Leadership Training – Case Study

The Center for Scientific Review (CSR)

PROJECT OVERVIEW:

The Center for Scientific Review (CSR) required the development and deployment of a leadership training series for its staff.

LONGEVITY'S ROLE:

Longevity's objective was to provide a world class training program designed to deliver a series of interrelated, facilitated training sessions and workshops that would establish the framework and skills required for CSR staff to successfully assume leadership in all aspects of their lives and careers, improving the management of the organizations of which they are part and each individuals' career trajectory. The training would also provide the foundation required to promote the developmental skills of collaboration, teamwork, accountability and consistency needed to successfully fulfill the CSR's mission.

Over the course of eleven months, Longevity's team created coursework and delivered training for the CSR's staff in the following areas:

- Building Relationships
- Quality Control
- Time Management
- Teamwork and Collaboration
- Accountability
- Performance Management
- Results Orientation
- Knowledge Sharing
- Individual Development
- Dealing with Change
- Professional Integrity
- Communication
- Dealing with Difficult People
- Project Management

BENEFITS REALIZED:

Through careful collaboration and attention to the needs of the CSR and their stakeholders, Longevity was able to provide the staff with information and training that they could readily apply in both their position within the organization and their day-to-day lives. The benefit to the CSR was realized in the improved performance of their workforce and the reinvestment of their dedication to the agency.

OUR MISSION

Team Longevity is dedicated to providing the best possible solution for an organization. Drawing from a vast pool of knowledge and expertise, we are committed to ensuring that our customers are satisfied from day one. The bottom-line result is improved productivity, increased collaboration and greater efficiency in mission critical operations.
